

Corrib Gas Onshore Pipeline

PUBLIC INFORMATION NOTICE

Shell E&P Ireland Limited (SEPI) will continue with construction works relating to the onshore pipeline throughout June. Ongoing civil works to establish the compound at Aughose will include the construction of internal roads, piling for the tunnel launch pit, concrete structures and service installations, installation of workshop, structures, import and export of construction materials and associated works. Works to establish a compound at Glengad are substantially complete with the installation of perimeter fencing and construction of temporary working areas, access roads and welfare facilities all complete.

Demobilisation of hydro-test equipment and dewatering equipment associated with the offshore pipeline will be ongoing in June. Works on the pipeline wayleave will include the installation of monitoring equipment, surface water management systems, investigation works, fencing and construction of a stone road within the wayleave.

There will be ongoing movements to licensed facilities for the management of construction related materials. This will include the material recovery facility at Tallagh, Belmullet on the L1201.

The approved peak number of daily one-way traffic movements is 236, while the table below contains the estimated average daily one-way movements for the next two months. A map of the local haulage routes is also displayed.

The majority of haulage traffic for this period will be to the construction compounds at Aughose, Glengad (max 24 one-way HCV movements per day), the pipeline wayleave, the Bellanaboy Bridge Gas Terminal site, Srahmore and other licensed facilities.
